My name is Hrönn Baldursdóttir and I am educational- and vocational counsellor in a comprehensive college. The school is a leading school among the vocational training-schools for those working in the health care system.

My primary degree was in psychology and then I completed diploma in guidance from University of Iceland 1999.

I have been working as guidance counsellor for 10 year, first in an elementary school and now for 2 years in the college "Fjölbrautaskólinn við Ármúla".

In my job I provide counselling to students from 16 years old up to over 60. It includes guidance in educational- and vocational choices, personal problems, learning styles and decision making for example. I have always worked among students in low social class and I am very interested in support for those students.

I live in Reykjavik with my family, a husband and three children, 3, 12 and 17 years old. My hobbies are yoga, hiking, counselling, patchwork, bonsai and running. I am looking forward to the week in Dublin but this is my first time in Ireland.

Best regards,

Hrönn Baldursdóttir
