"I've been working with the Clare Adult Guidance Service for six years as a guidance counsellor. For the last two years I've been co-ordinating the project. We're part of Co. Clare's Vocational Education Committee, Adult and Community Education Service. I provide vocational and educational guidance as well as information and advice to adults throughout Co. Clare in particular current, past and possible participants on Literacy, VTOS and Adult & Community Education programmes. At the moment there are approximately 4000 adult learners throughout Co. Clare.

Outside of this I'm a dad of three, a husband, swimming/cycling and running enthusiast. I'm originally from neighbouring Co. Galway and before settling in Co. Clare I travelled and worked in many parts of the world. I enjoy getting out and about and meeting people and am looking forward to the trip to Iceland as I've never been before - that's it."
